Catarrh and Colds To Be Rid of Relieved Catarrh

Is a great achievement. Most people would be well and happy were it not for catarrh. It is worth ten years of any one's life to learn how to get rid of catarrh.

PE-RU-NA will show you, much quicker than any one could tell you, how to get rid of catarrh.

THE PERUNA CO., Columbus, Ohio

Mrs. Emma Gannon, 107 E. South St., Kewanee, Ill., writes: "For fifteen years I had catarrh of the head and stomach. I could hardly walk. My attention was called to 'The Ills of Life.' I read it through. Then bought a bottle of Peruna. I am entirely well now."

Safe Medicine for Children.

"Is it safe?" is the first question to be considered when buying cough medicine for children. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has long been a favorite with mothers of young children as it contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. It is pleasant to take, too, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. This remedy is most effective in relieving coughs, colds and croup. Obtainable everywhere.

EASTER AT HARMONY.

Easter Services at Harmony Methodist Church.

Special services were held at Harmony Methodist church of the Brewerton section on Easter Sunday. It was at this church only two months ago that the Bible Conference was held. The pastor, Rev. W. A. Lamar is a "live wire" in his work and is always giving these people something extra. He is full of energy and a zealous worker for his Master.

The Sunday morning service was presided over by Mr. Lamar and opened with prayer by Rev. Travis Taylor of Ware Shoals.

The first speaker was Dr. Clarence Workman of Cross Anchor, a consecrated Christian physician who spoke on "The Relation Between the Physical and Spiritual". He told of how the physical man had been perfected, and of the rapid strides that had been made in the medical world to protect the physical man, and of the advancement made not only to check, but to prevent, disease. He explained that since the soul was the starting point of man how much better it was for man to be truly spiritual, and that the person who is filled with God's love and power can bear the physical infirmities of life better and is a stronger person. He described the perfect man as one who was filled with the Spirit and lived unselfishly for others.

Dr. Workman was followed by Rev. Homer Casto of Pensacola, N. C. His text was 1 Cor. 15:35. His was an Easter sermon and he spoke of the resurrected body. He beautifully compared the resurrected body to the planted seed and the growth of the plant. He spoke of how every life was suited to its environments, and that the new body was suited to a heavenly environment; of how Easter was a celebration of Christ's victory over death and the grave. He told why a Christian should rejoice for "If we die in faith we shall live."

On Sunday evening the Sunday school had an Easter exercise. The church was filled long before the appointed time for service. The children did splendidly both in songs and recitations. Much credit is due Mrs. Ian Balentine and Miss Sudie Medlock for training the children and to Miss Jo Balentine for the music. Any one who has ever been to Harmony knows what a treat was in store for the people. The songs of the choir at both morning and evening services were greatly enjoyed.

Francis X. Bushman.

Francis X. Bushman will be seen at the Opera House Picture show next Friday afternoon and night in the picture "The Penman's Choice". The picture is a good one and Francis Bushman is too well known to Laurens to tell about. He is probably the most popular of movie actors.

MARVELOUS TRICK IN "THE SABLE LORCHA."

Thomas Jefferson Appears Twice in One Scene, Playing the Dual Role of Twin Brothers.

Thomas Jefferson scores a telling effect in the dual role of Robert and Donald Cameron, the confusion of the one's identity with the other being a large factor in the plot of "The Sable Lorch," to be witnessed under the Triangle auspices at the Idle Hour Theater next Monday. Jefferson as the prosperous and highly respected New Yorker is pursued by Tully Marshall, a halfbreed Chinaman, and the members of a powerful secret society of Chinatown. A hundred Chinese had been killed by the scuttling of a junk or lorch on which they were embarked to be smuggled into America by Donald Cameron. This Cameron is the black sheep of the family and performs the fiendish deed to get away safely with the passage money without paying his partners, Soy and Murphy. These two men escape as by a miracle and make several attempts on Donald's life unsuccessfully. They trace him to New York and there mistake Robert Cameron, his prosperous brother, for Donald. After several mysterious messages the hunted man seeks refuge on his yacht. He is kidnapped and chained to the floor of a cellar in Chinatown and water turned on.

Cameron is rescued by Clyde, a lover of Cameron's daughter, assisted by the police. He is taken to his home, where his brother has also been taken after a murderous attack by two Chinamen. Donald clears up the mystery of the attacks on his brother by confessing with his dying breath that he had blown up the sable lorch and that Robert had been a victim of mistaken identity. By the art of the photo artist Jefferson appears in the last scene as Robert Cameron gazing on his dying brother Donald. While the former is the spruce man of business and the other is a derelict in appearance, Jefferson brings out the striking resemblance of the two brothers very effectively.
